KICKERS OUT TO-DAY.

Six Football Teams to Meet on the Green This Afternoon.

neighborhood. Three great games will road between two sections of the Bar-be played this afternoon. Princeton and num & Bailey circus trains. Cornell are to meet at Manhattan Field, the University of Pennsylvania and Crescents will battle at Eastern Park, Brooklyn, and Yale and the Oranges crack shins at Orange Oval.

Each one will be a battle royal, and is bound to afford a treat to the spectator, so the difficulty of choosing between them is not so great as might be supposed. The college men in this vicinity, of course, will favor their respectively. Each one will be a battle royal, and the first good opportunity for judging of the relative merits of the several crack college teams. Very little is yet known of the character of the new material that has been brought forward this season, and the few scattering games which have already been played have not shown any of the college teams in their best form.

Fractice of the past two weeks, however, has knocked a good deal of the raw material into respectable shape, and as the colleges are putting forward their strongest men they may be expected to make a fine showing.

The game at Manhattan Field offers, perhaps, the most attraction for New York people. Princeton and Cornell have been bitter rivals ever since the finds last year, when it was claimed by the Ithaca men that the New Jersey players backed out of a game that had been arranged because they feared defeat. Anyway, the men from up the State are down here for blood, and though they are not doing any loud boasting their friends say that the yellow-striped Jerseymen will have to do some hard hustling if they succeed in shutting them out. Before a New York crowd, too, Princeton will be on her mettle, and the general option is that she will have to look lively to her laurels.

Cornell has lost some of her best play-laurels.

Cornell has lost some of her best players of last season, while Princeton has not been so unfortunate, but the new material is said to be first-class. The Ithaca men came to town yesterday, and in their practice at Manhattan Field seemed to be in excellent form. The make-up of the two elevens, as decided upon this morning, is as follows:

The team, if anything, is stronger than it was last year, when it succeeded in shutting Princeton out, and its best players are all old hands, including Knipe, Osgood, Simmons, Vail and Woodruff. The teams will probably line up in the following order when the game is called at 3.30 P. M.:

Princeton's players arrived at the Murray Hill Hotel early this morning, and the Yale giants came down from New Haven about noon. It is reported that Yale has now an abundance of coaching, although a week ago Capt. Hinkey found great difficulty in securing the services of any of the graduate football experts. Ex-Capt. "Bill" Rhodes, Wyllys Terry, the noted half-back, and "Kid" Wallace, the famous end-rush, have all shown up at New Haven within the past two days and are devoting their entire attention to getting their entire attention to getting their entire attention to getting their entire attention to getting Rhodes is to have charge of the coaching for the rest of the season, and he came down to-day with the team from New Haven.

An important meeting of the Advisory Committee of the Intercollegiate Football Association will be held in this city this evening, probably at the Windsor Hotel, at which the undergraduate rule will come up for discussion again. It is believed that this much-vexed question will be settled finally, and it is tertain that every effort will be made to aspose of it satisfactorily.

It is rumored that Yale may recede from the position which she has all along taken on this question and consent to a modification of the rule if the opposition of Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania cannot be overcome.

The Board discovered that John M. Shannon, the bondsman for City Treasurer J. B. Cleveland; Martin Ward, bondsman for City Collector O'Neill, and James Roach, bondsman for Permit Clerk F. P. Woodcock, were dead. These officials will be required to furnish new bondsmen at once.

The Finance Board has requested the Street and Water Commissioners, when making appointments, to give the full name and address of the appointees. This action of the Finance Board was due to the fact sthat there had been suspicion about certain appointments made in the Street and Water Department. It is alleged that some of the appointees on the payroll do not exist.
